Extended warranty/support for Tech 2

D101B623

The arrow indicates the location of the Tech 2 serial number

Background

The two-year support package supplied when purchasing Tech 2 will be expiring around the turn of the year as two years will then have past since the first joint delivery.

Hewlett Packard (HP) in association with SPX Kent Moore are offering an extension of the support period for 1 to 3 years. The offer covers the same support as previously but all support requests must be made by each Importer to SPX. Costs and support periods with or without extended warranty are shown in the SPX supplement (page 2).

Hewlett Packard will still carry out the exchange of the units even in the future but SPX will coordinate support activities. SPX will be the contact point with the market from now on.

The offer is valid until the end of January 1999.

An equivalent extension for support agreements for Tech 2 units purchased after the first joint delivery can be made in good time before the present two-year warranty has expired. It is extremely important that each user keeps track of the warranty period and renews their support agreement with SPX.

There is a slight difference in pricing between Europe and the rest of the world due to differences in logistic costs.

Extension of support agreement

Information and prices from SPX can be found in a supplement to this TN. A warranty extension for 1, 2 or 3 years is optional. Complete a copy of the enclosed SPX form and fax the application for warranty extension to SPX as directed on page 3.

Support

Act according to SPX supplement, page 4, if support is required.
